Dedication

ALTERATION, variation, modification—all necessary in the continual growth and development of a good school.

An evolving curriculum, physical additions to the school, a constant influx of new teachers—all essential, to be sure.

Tradition, stability, continuity—all basic for the retention of a school identity.

The ideal school seeks to create an equilibrium—change and stability.

Tradition—a commonly used abstraction, tossed about, often becoming lost in its vagueness as an abstract idea.

What means can we discover to explain the presence of this tradition, this identifying continuity?

A devoted staff of teachers, each one of whom has contributed and continues to contribute his portion—each one feeling a real sense of duty to his school—so acquainted with the way of life at Brookline High School that introductions are no longer necessary.

Herein lies the foundation of a distinguished school—herein lies its distinction.

In a humble attempt at thanks, we are proud to dedicate this 1966 Murivian, created in the midst of change, to a foundation of staff who in toto have significantly contributed 1000 years of dedicated service to Brookline High School.

The Changing Faces of Brookline High School

It has been a year for change, though it has always been a year for change.

Every year it is different; in fact, every minute it is different . . .

... for the changing faces,
the outer aspects,
reflect the shifting moods inherent in high school life ...

. . . and the changing faces mirror continual growth, both internal and external.

True,
faces are changing,
passing from one phase to another . . .

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Bertram Holland, Headmaster

A Message from the Headmaster

"The more things change the more they remain the same." To the passerby, The High School is taking on a new look with additions budding forth here and there. To the student within, physical changes have been taking place all year. To the Faculty, all the changes are but means to an end—that of serving better the educational needs of students.

Expanded and modernized facilities help an already dedicated Faculty to approach its task with renewed zeal. In fact, all the time and money expended in developing the new spaces will be useless unless it is staffed by a Faculty steeped in the fine tradition of a first rate public high school at its best.

"We serve youth that youth may learn to serve" is no idle slogan but is the very essence of a Faculty which has deep concern for the individual student, for his moral as well as intellectual growth, for both his physical and mental health.

With full regard and appreciation for the past and sincere respect for the present, Brookline High School goes forward with high hopes for a bright future.

CLASS OF 1966

Mrs. Teena Ogden, Housemaster

Mr. John Wall, Assistant Housemaster

Shailer House

To Shailer House, Class of 1966:

Never have opportunities for young adults been more varied and plentiful. Possibilities fringing on the near fantastic may be realities in your lifetime. What role will you, as an individual or group, have in this age? Each one of you has something of value to give, something which can make some small part of the world better because you lived. The important thing is that you matter. Your productiveness can make a difference. This difference can mean self-fulfillment, and this is the kind of happiness we wish for all of you.

Teena M. Ogden

Four years have passed since our first house council meeting, our first dues drive, and our first dance. From this fine start, Shailer House, has introduced many "firsts" to Brookline High School. The Class of 1966 was the first class to sponsor an all-school Hootenanny and to hold a Barbecue Dance in the Quadrangle. In addition to such diverse activities, we have sponsored many successful traditional events such as the Winter Carnival Dance, the Kick-Off Dance, and the Junior and Senior Proms.

Seniors have had the extra fun and excitement of working on Senior Activities which took place during the last week of school for the graduates. The pace was hectic, but the results were well worth the effort.

As seniors we have grown closer together and have shared and enjoyed the responsibility of leading Brookline High School. Our class has become more unified and class activities have involved more people with each succeeding year, making this past year the most memorable.

Jay Brenner, President; Peter S. Gordon, Vice-President; John Rosenthal, Treasurer; Betsy Williams, Secretary; Peter H. Gordon, Assistant Treasurer.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Roberts House

When we looked at ourselves on the opening day of school, what a remarkable change we were from the apprehensive, concerned students we were just three years ago.

I like to think that we grew not only in stature, but, also, in wisdom, and our scholastic performance attested to the presence of wisdom.

Victor E. Dobras

Mr. Victor Dobras, Housemaster

Miss Martha Murdock, Assistant Housemaster

This year our activities were more numerous, and the class approached them with the kind of enthusiasm that made us all proud of our efforts. The United Fund Drive was an overwhelming success. We enjoyed an "Alpine Holiday" and hundreds of others enjoyed the Winter Carnival Dance with us. Our social interests culminated in the Prom. One more year lies ahead for Roberts House. If the past is any indication of the future, we shall enjoy even more pleasant relationships than we have heretofore shared together. Miss Murdock joins me in these greetings to you all. It has been our privilege to serve you as your administrative leaders.

Seated: Joseph Kaplan, President; Standing: Susan Seltzer, Assistant Treasurer; Gail Michelson, Vice-President; Joan Roberts, Secretary; Richard Worth, Treasurer.

In September, 1965, Roberts House (Class of 1967) eagerly assumed the position of an "upper house" at BHS. With characteristic good spirit and responsibility, the juniors embarked upon a most successful year.

The dues campaign opened the fall activities for the House, in its second year of a unified dues program. Following the dues drive the Roberts House Council sponsored a breakfast in conjunction with the New England Dairy Association which was offered as a bonus to members of the combined dues program. Shortly after this, Roberts House, in charge of the school-wide United Fund Drive, proudly raised a sum which doubled that of the previous year.

During the winter season Roberts House presented the beautiful Holiday Assembly with the theme of "Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men." Next followed the gay Winter Carnival Dance set to the theme of "Alpine Holiday."

Finally, climaxing a terrific year for Roberts House, the Junior Prom was staged in the spring.

Lincoln House

Almost half your high school career now gone by and we all look forward with anticipation to your success during the next two years.

Plan ahead and meet your problems and challenges with wisdom and the knowledge that you do not stand alone in your endeavors. With the help and encouragement of your fellow students, your parents, your teachers, we feel confident that you will succeed.

All of us together share a common bond of interest and enthusiasm in fostering school spirit for Brookline High School and Lincoln House.

We all take great pride in you as individuals, in your accomplishments and in your hopes and ambitions. May you continue ever forward . . .

The 1965 Murivian commented that Lincoln House started its high school years "with a bang." The Murivian went on to predict three more exciting years for Lincoln House. The sophomore year has certainly fulfilled this prediction. Shortly after the opening of school, Lincoln House held a barbecue at Larz Anderson Park with well over half the house attending. It turned out to be a huge success. Lincoln House followed with a concert featuring the famous McCoys and Boston's own Barry and The Remains.

Since the installment of the Unified Dues, House spirit has grown tremendously. The majority of students now hold a Unified Dues card which admits members of the plan free of charge into all house activities, including the forthcoming Chinese Dinner. The next two years promise to be equally successful for Lincoln House.

A THE NEWTON

HARRIS B. SIEGEL

Mr. Harry Siegel, Housemaster

Harris B. Siegel

Akers House

"The Beginning is the Most Important"—Plato

We, like the young bird fresh from the nest, tried our wings this past year, hesitantly at first, then with ever-increasing sureness: sureness in our academics, in our extra-curricula activities, in ourselves.

From out of varied backgrounds, B.H.S. became the home of Akersmen—1969. From the strange feeling of the first weeks, through the solemnity of Term I, the diversity that once characterized the Class of '69 was transposed into a positive identifiable force—Class Unity. Our new-found unity will, we trust, contribute to individual growth, individual responsibility, individual respect, over the next three, most important years.

Yes, we have made a superb start as a class. This was a learning year, a growing year, a year for growing and becoming somewhat wiser. In the process we have made mistakes; yet in these mistakes comes the wealth of the future—the knowledge of what to profit by—and not make the same error twice.

We began the year heeding the words of Plato, so let us return to this philosopher as we move into our Sophomore season:

> "Look forward with confidence, and fix your minds on this one belief . . . devote yourself to the pleasure of acquiring knowledge, for this is the key to success."

Since September, Akers House has exemplified school spirit and eagerness which is essential for the success of the house.

Presenting educational and cultural films such as a Leonard Bernstein concert and excerpts from three dramas, Akers House is definitely on its way to three fruitful and exciting years.

Under the auspices of Mr. Harris Siegel, Akers House hopes to sponsor a "Battle of the Bands" and to form an advertising committee for its activities.

In the future, Akers House students promise to be spirited leaders of Brookline High School.

The School Council is an integral part of the long tradition of student government at Brookline High School. In addition to giving its members an opportunity to practice democracy in action, it performs a number of valuable functions for the school. The School Council sponsors the B.A.T., the sale of the New York Times, the traditional Winter Carnival, and the Inter-Organization Council. In addition, it approves charters for new clubs and supervises School Council elections for all houses. Since it is the representative body of Brookline High School, the School Council tries to keep the students well informed about its activities. Open meetings, assemblies, and a monthly column in the Sagamore, "From the J.F.K. Room," help sustain the close relationship between the Council and the students. In connection with its goal of service, the School Council has in the past initiated the dedication of the John F. Kennedy Room, made recommendations to the library, and participated in discussions of the Dress Code Committee. This year the Council sponsored a drive to send clothes to needy families in Appalachia. The School Council, ever-aware of its important role in the school, is anxious to promote service, student responsibility, and school service.

Student Court

Row 1: Eleanor Skinner; Penny Levin; Leslie Keiter; Janie Gallant; Row 2: Kelly Tyree; Elliot Weinstein; Mr. Warren Bartlett; Paul Katzeff, Chief Justice; Jimmy Davis; Jonathan Woll; Absent: Harriet Guberman.

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people . . ." The same principle which governs our nation, governs Brookline High, manifested in the Student Court.

After a relatively long period of inactivity, the Court has surged back to full productivity with the revision of its constitution and a new and tougher policy. Marshalls and justices, working together, make our high school a more orderly and enjoyable place to be.

Central Treasury

Staffed by students of the business department, the Central Treasury manages all of B.H.S.'s finances, such as the dues of each house, scholarships, and the funds of all school clubs and organizations. A monthly statement, which reports all monies held by the Treasury, is written by the third year bookkeeping class and is typed and duplicated by senior stenographic typists. Mr. Wall, Central Treasury's auditor, supervises the typing. Mr. Ehnes, the head of the business department, is the overall treasurer.

Marshals

In every society there are those who would flagrantly violate the rules set down by that society to insure the safety and well being of all, for unknown or selfish reasons. We have such people at Brookline High School. They are the cause behind desecration of school property, food fights in the cafeteria, and displays of animalistic behavior in the corridors even during school hours. It is fortunate that these pupils constitute a minority, but they manage overwhelmingly to make their presence known. The Marshal Force is the main bulwark against delinquency within and around BHS, for there is something about the red and blue arm band that commands the respect of all. It is the symbol of lawful authority—authority invested in a few by their fellow classmates who have seen in them the qualities of leadership, honesty, and integrity. In most societies, the investment of authority comes from a single man at the top. Here at Brookline High, the power comes from within. Our Marshal Force, which includes Floor Marshals, Lunchroom Marshals, and Locker Marshals, directly reflects the standards and values of the students.

Jr. Red Cross

Mrs. Patricia Stewart, Joyce Sargon, Secretary; Chris Hafferty, Council Representative; Steve Provizer, Vice-President.

Aiding children in need is the purpose of Brookline High School's Junior Red Cross Organization. The Junior Red Cross conducts two drives a year. Under the guidance of Mrs. Patricia Stewart and the leadership of President Judy Syatt and the executive board, this year's campaigns were more than successful. The gift boxes filled by each homeroom were sent to needy children in Vietnam. More than one hundred bags with clothing for young boys and girls were filled at Brookline High.

Aside from supplying underprivileged children with certain necessities, Junior Red Cross undertook a drive to bring enjoyment to deprived youngsters. Small boxes were filled with such items as toothpaste, pencils, and paper. Small toys were also placed in the boxes.

The Brookline High School Mental Health Club has offered a variety of programs for students seriously interested in fields of mental health. The purposes of the club are to educate the student about the problems of mental health and the way in which he can share in their solution. During the past year, the club has visited community clinics and toured institutions such as the Mass. Mental Health Center. The club has discussed possible careers and work in social services as psychotherapy with psychologists, psychiatric social workers and other professional advisers. The BHS Mental Health Club also provided the students with opportunities for volunteer activities, such as visiting homes for the aged, working with retarded pre-schooler, and giving Saturday night dance parties for retarded young adults. Eight fortunate BHSers were chosen this year as "mental health aides" participating in a special volunteer program at Mass. Mental Health Center, where the students worked directly with patients, psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, and occupational therapists. Club members have been active in the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children, Town Recreation Department programs for the retarded, in Fernald School and in "operation Head Start" projects.

Girls' League

Service and the Girls' League have a long tradition at BHS, one which is renewed every year, as girls volunteer their energies to help others in the community. While such service is the organization's major purpose, the league also takes pride in giving incoming freshmen a look in advance at high school life. The eighth-grade party enjoyed its usual success along with Move-Up Day last June. But the greatest service which the League performs is to the participants themselves, the rewards being friendships and satisfaction. Each day girls are welcome to gather after school in the League Room to model in the Fashion Show, to make dolls and scrapbooks for hospitalized children, to paint decorations for the Ski Lodge, a new idea for the annual dance, or to just talk or study with the music of a juke box (when it's working). This is the friendly atmosphere of the League from Supper Party to Supper Party, when new leaders take over from the old.

Key Club

Sitting: Alan Solomont, President; Standing: Paul Brenner, Treasurer; Mr. Frederick Coe; Joseph Eudovich, Secretary.

The main purpose of the Human Relations Council is to orientate new students to Brookline High School. By assisting newcomers with their schoolwork and introducing them to students, the Council makes these students feel more comfortable at B.H.S. One of the yearly projects of the Council is the choosing of three seniors for the Jewish War Veteran's Award. The Human Relations Council is the only high school club that is sponsored by the Brookline School Committee.

Dedicated to the development of leadership and character, the Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis International, is a service club of high school boys. The Key Club undertakes many worthy projects aimed at meeting school, community, national, or personal needs.

One of more than 2,700 clubs throughout the United States and Canada, the Brookline High Key Club was formed just two years ago, but has already established a fine service record. Among its services, the Key Club delivers the mail each morning, holds an annual party for eighth-grade boys in June, and does various types of volunteer work throughout the year.

Library Club

Now that the library has expanded, it has need for more assistants. It is the library club which comes to the rescue. Members help students by suggesting and finding books. They also assist the librarians in writing passes and reshelving books. The library would fall apart without them.

Row 1: Barry Small; Mrs. Jane Dalton; Nick Breitstein; Row 2: Phil Geyer; Michael Marram, President; Gary Bickelman, Secretary; James Waldman, Vice President.

Book Store

The Book Store, although a relatively new organization, is already a fundamental part of Brookline High School. On its shelves are books ranging from novels and adventure stories to review books and study guides. Required reading for numerous subjects can be found in the Book Store, since many teachers order paperback books for classroom use. The school benefits from the Book Store in yet another way: all of the profits are donated to the Scholarship Fund.

Nancy McBride, Aide; Judith Jacobs. Absent: Aides Ellen Jacobs, Michel Neckas, Jason Grossman, Jeremey Soldevilla.

Senior Office Aides

We seniors are an unappreciative lot. For example, have you ever seriously pondered the tremendous amount of work and effort that goes into the creation of one senior AWOL? From its natal emergence in study hall, German, American history, etc., etc., through its embryonic development in 271, to the culmination of effort at the moment of delivery in homeroom, the AWOL is a masterpiece of terse reprimand. If it weren't for the senior office aides, you might never experience the delicious nausea in the pit of your stomach as you hold the AWOL in your hot little hand. Now, don't you appreciate your senior office aides? (Put that noose away.)

Larry Mills, Suzanne Maloney, Mrs. Teena Ogden.

WGBH

In cooperation with the B.H.S. Radio-TV Broadcasting Club and WGBH, a unique program of community service was instituted this year. Volunteers from the high school, trained as tour leaders, comprised a valuable work force at the famed Cambridge studios. Celebrities as well as interested students' and businessmen's groups were treated to the student-conducted tour of WGBH's fabulous facilities. The experiences of meeting the leaders of education, of the arts, and of industries, as well as the WGBH staff of experts were invaluable and enlightening.

Philosophy Seminar

We are not the aspiring creators of new worlds and ideas, but rather a group of students who desire understanding of the ideas and methods that have preceded and are with us in our generation. Having started with Socrates and Plato this past October, and not knowing where we will end, our bi-monthly meetings provoke and stimulate us into formulating our own ideas and ideals. Our intent is not prolonged close analysis, but enjoyment of learning. Don't believe us? Try us sometime.

Anthropology and Archaeology Club

Howard Piltch, Vice-President; Donna Steinberg, President; Susanne Edelstein, Senior Representative; Bruce Shpiner, Secretary-Treasurer.

You dig? Dirt? No, not trash, man, artifacts. Antiquity, it's a gas! The Archaeology and Anthropology Club is what was happening, baby. When? Oh, about four thousand years ago. Where? Oh, man, in Greece, Rome, Egypt, and Mesopotamia. No, they didn't know about Greenwich Village then. They didn't need it and neither do these club members—guest lecturers, films, field trips, group discussions on ancient life—it's the graviest, I mean the grooviest. So come on, grab a shovel and meet me at the next A.A. meeting . . . Archaeology and Anthropology . . . what did you think I meant, baby!

Debating Society

Honorable judge, timekeeper, colleagues, and, of course, fellow readers, today we are gathered here to discuss the resolved: that the Debating Society is a most rewarding experience and worthwhile investment of your time. Only the Debating Society enables its members to explore such diversified topics as U.S. policy in Viet Nam and compulsory arbitration in labor disputes. In addition to providing intramural and interscholastic debates, the BHS Debate Society participated in state and nation-wide tournaments. Certainly this is an undebatable issue.

As in past years, the Student Forum has made the student body at B.H.S. aware of national and international affairs. Among the fine speakers that the Forum presented this year, was Rep. Patrick W. Nee, who spoke on U.S. policy in Viet Nam. Also, the British consulate of Boston spoke on the Rhodesian problem. Next year the Forum looks forward to increased participation by its members and an increase in the attendance at meetings.

American Field Service

"Peace on earth, good will toward men." How many times we sat enraptured as these words of truth and wisdom echoing off the chapel walls, bid us receive our brothers, regardless of color or faith. At Christmas the words come easily, but Christmas is one day. One day out of 365. During those remaining days, the message of fellowship is often obscured in lieu of the grave conflicts confronting mankind at home and abroad. To American Field Service, fellowship is a full-time project. What better way to promote understanding between peoples than through a free exchange of youth—young adults like ourselves, eager to learn, unprejudiced, honest, and impressionable. In this way we can see ourselves as others see us, realize the flaws in the American image, and take steps to correct those imperfections. The American Field Service motto is: "Walk together, talk together, all ye peoples of the earth. Then, only then, shall ye have peace." . . . peace . . . the message of Christmas . . . the intention of God . . .

Le Cercle Français

Parlez-vous français? All the members of Le Cercle Français speak at least three words of French: oui, non, and très bien. The more proficient members use je ne comprend pas alternately with je ne sais pas. Speaking and understanding French is a necessity; every club meeting is conducted entirely in French. Even so, everyone manages to enjoy the movies, plays, refreshments, Mardi Gras, and games that are offered throughout the year. These meetings, always short and amusing, have insured the success and popularity of Le Cercle Français.

David Cahan, Treasurer; Mrs. Nancy Alimanski, Barbara Gordon, Vice-President; Laurie Hoffman, President; Debrah Zuker, Secretary; Absent: Connie Katz, Chairman of Refreshments, and Barbara Rich, Chairman of Publicity.

Folk Music Club

The Folk Music Club introduces the high school student to a variety of American and foreign folk music forms. It aims at both individual enjoyment and presentation to others. The most important performing group sponsored by the club is the Kiddie Group, which visits the grammar schools, presenting programs of traditional folk music. Whether listeners or participants in the club, all members enjoy a unique personal experience: sharing a rich heritage not only with the people of the present moment, but with everyone who has ever heard and felt the music.

LAROUSSE

No high "C's" are required for membership in the Brookline High School Opera Club. The members of this organization, however, possess an interest and knowledge which have launched an extremely successful first year. This is not to say that there are no musicians in the club: three of the officers are aspiring opera stars. What is more important, though, is that all of the members have a desire to learn more about opera, to cultivate interest, and to contribute to the advancement of the club. Whether listening to records, having discussions, or attending concerts, the members display enthusiasm which shows one that the Opera Club is one of the most worthwhile organizations at Brookline High School. It is sure to exist for many years to come.

Russian Club

Sitting: Martha Ramey, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Florence Osman, Mark Silber, President; Jenna Will, Vice-President; Standing: Susan Kaminsky, Joyce Kublin, Fiena Silber.

The Russian Club, one of the newest organizations in Brookline High, was established in the early part of the school year for the promotion of the Russian language and culture. The first year included many varied programs such as a trip to a Russian Orthodox Church, a lecture and a presentation of slides taken last summer in Russia, and discussions of Russian customs and holidays. The combination of Russian culture with the language has proved to be a rewarding experience for all. With the impetus given by this first year, the Russian Club promises to be a successful and active part of Brookline High School's community.

If you are a future conquistador or toreador, then the Spanish Club is the club for you. The members have been shown interesting and informative slides of Spain and Spanish life and introduced to the magic of the word "olé!" Some of its other activities include lectures on Spanish culture and skits. So grab your red cape and Spanish-English dictionary and join the Spanish Club—Isabella would want you to; so would Christopher.

DE AVIACION

German Club

Sitting: Dana Rodin, President; Mr. Diepold Friedland; Standing: Stephen Arbeely, Sandra Vantloet, Jeanne Schounberger, Ronald Saloman.

The German Club is primarily concerned with furthering a knowledge of the German language, culture, and tradition. The programs of the club include presentations of lectures by traveling faculty members and visiting AFS students, slide shows and films largely supplied by the German Consulate.

In the Brookline Chapter of the Junior Classical League, better known as the Latin Club, members have become more familiar with aspects of the classics different from the routine translation of the classrooms. Playlets which are satires on Roman characters have been performed. The students have been able to increase their Latin vocabulary through games and have also learned much about Roman life from reading anecdotes. (Would you like some eel pie for dessert?) The Latin Club sponsored a prose and poetry contest in order to stimulate the originality of all the Latin students. It also publishes its own newspaper, the Nova Latina. In the spring as a climax to the year's activities, the Latin Club attended the annual state convention of the Junior Classical League. Don't be misled, however, into thinking that the Latin language is dead. A group of Latin students went Christmas caroling—in Latin, of course.

Art Club

This year the Art Club visited many places of interest. Among them was a trip to the Newbury St. Art Galleries, where many forms of modern art were viewed. The club also visited the famous architectural structure, the Carpenter Institute, as well as various exhibits at the Museum of Fine Arts.

Members of the Art Club are introduced to many areas of art. During some of the club meetings, the members have sketched their emotions towards various music compositions.

Stamp Club

At the B.H.S. Stamp Club meetings, enthusiasts gather to exchange ideas and opinions about their collections. This year the club has sponsored a program of trips, films, and speakers. Not only does the club enrich its members' knowledge of stamps; it also allows the members to better their individual collections through trade-sessions.

Jerry Klein, President; Mr. Jay Land.

Mark Ross, Bruce Fieldman, President; Dennis Brooks, Treasurer; Jimmy Sparks, Jr. Adviser; Michael Franklin, Gary Fisher, Vice-President.

Camera Club

The B.H.S. Camera Club conducted a research study in the techniques of photography. In the high school's darkroom, the members have experimented with shadegrams and the development of photographs. In the future, the club plans a trip to a professional studio.

Bridge Club

London bridge may be falling down, but B.H.S. bridge is booming. Now, ordinary students are not encouraged or even allowed to play cards in school. However, members of the Bridge Club are not ordinary mortals, and while the rest of the student body unleashed its pent-up frustrations in the pursuits of volleyball and weight-lifting, these gifted few get their kicks from making "tricks." The Bridge Club is indubitably the club for the card shark!

Sitting: Joyce Glasser, Secretary; Bruce Shpiner, Treasurer; Neil Miller, Vice-President; Mitchell Jacobs, President; Standing: Mrs. Judith Springer.

Coin Club

For a new organization, the Numismatic Society has mustered considerable zeal among the student body. During this inaugural year, the club has studied the historical and systematic development of American and foreign coinage. At many of the meetings, the members have conducted trade sessions. A most rewarding experience for the members this year was a lecture given by a Malden Numismatic Society representative, who discussed the supply and demand of American Coinage.

Sitting: Michael Litel, President; Standing: Miss Elizabeth Grey, Harry Mezer, Secretary-Treasurer.

Chess Club

From all walks of B.H.S. life come a group of chess players who enjoy spending a few hours on Friday afternoons in friendly rivalry. The club's team has regularly finished third or better in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Chess League.

Sitting: Steve Sneddon, Treasurer; John Addelson, President; Standing: Milton Weinstein, Secretary; Mr. Norman Colb, James Dricker, Vice-President.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

Seated: Mrs. Marcella Bergner; Miss Muriel South; Standing: Sheila Murphy, Treasurer; Aviva Barber, President; Maria Wills; Absent: Thelma Clark, Vice-President.

Future Homemakers of America

"A woman's place is in the home." Do you agree? Whether you agree or disagree, the Future Homemakers of America Club can help you to run a more efficient household, balance or stretch a budget, recognize marketing trends, and enjoy the ever-changing field of home economics. Home economics is much more than the basics: sewing, cleaning, and cooking—it means recognizing value, establishing sound marital relations, and participating in community services. The members of the FHA are well on their way to developing into the leaders of society.

Future Teachers of America

Brookline High is very proud of its Future Teachers of America Club, one of its most active organizations. The club presented programs to show the opportunities in the teaching profession. Among its programs were an explanation of nursery school teaching, an interview with B.H.S. student teachers, and a program on teaching in the Peace Corps. In addition, each member was given an opportunity to observe grammar school classes. The club has also visited nearby colleges.

Lynn Borstein, Miss Mary Maloney, Laura Drucker, Carol Hamilton, Sarah Gilford.

Future Nurses of America

The Future Nurses Club, advised by Miss Maloney, offers an opportunity to learn about the interesting and rewarding career of nursing. The members have attended lectures on nursing education, presented by the directors of hospital and college schools of nursing, and have toured hospitals in the Boston area.

The Brookline High School of Future Nurses Club is a small branch of the national organization. The goal of the club is to interest more students in the nursing career.

Ski Club

(Tune—"Army Air Corps")
Off we go, into the wild white yonder,
Off we go, into a tree.
Down the cliff
Over the ridge and under.
Broken legs, isn't it fun?
Whoopee!

Down we ride
Laid on a clean white stretcher;
Pain or not, we had a ball.
We've smashed our bones
Just hear the moans!
Nothing can stop the Ski Club but walls.

The Ski Club is a success. Why? Maybe it's because of the reduced rates at N.E.'s finest resorts. Maybe it's because of the excitement of the sport. Maybe it's because of those hysterical bus trips. Mainly it's because of the members. Maybe you ought to look into it.

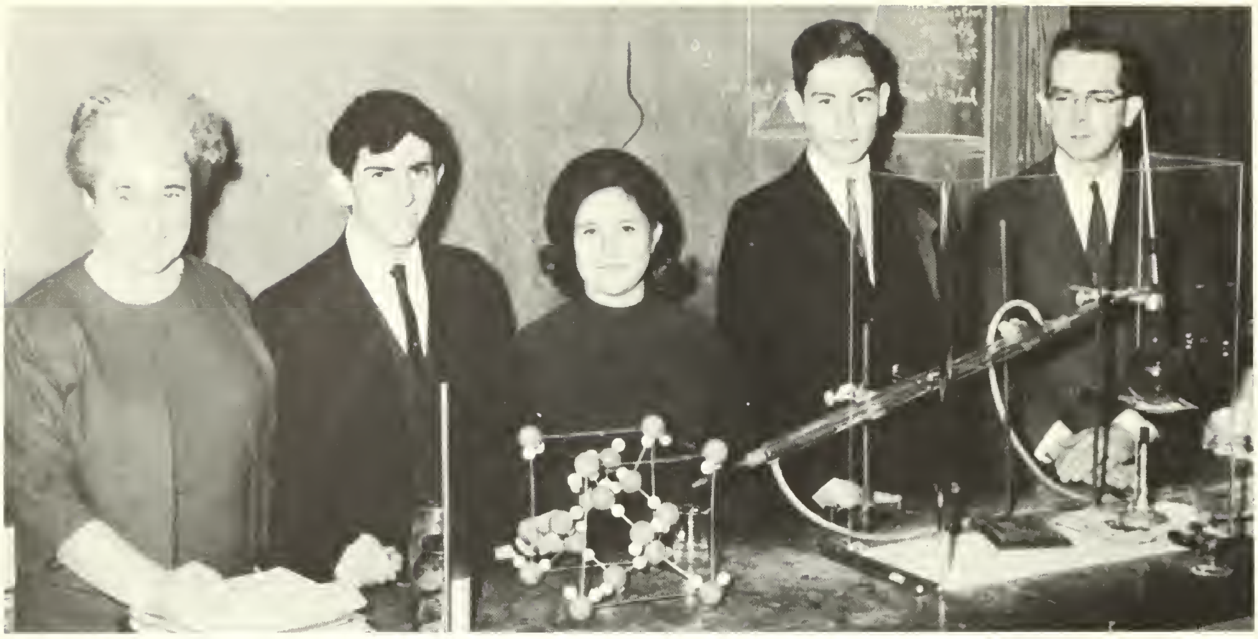
TOSCOB

This year has seen the creation of a fast-moving club, dedicated to climbing. The club's first trip was to Mt. Anne State Park. There, the students observed the geological and biological points of interest. TOSCOB members have the opportunity to observe rare forms of wildlife. Much of the club's success can be attributed to its faculty adviser, Mr. Fiott, under whose leadership the club was formed.



Miss Nellie Campbell, Mark Silber, President; Joanne Tallen, Public Relations Officer; Alan Naisuler, Vice-President; Mr. Richard Coombs; Absent: Shelley Rosenbloom, Secretary.

Chemistry Club

During the 1965-1966 school, the Chemistry Club has offered a varied program of interest to all its members. Among its activities were presentations of movies dealing with the methods and achievements of chemists, lectures by noted professors, and a field trip to the Worcester Institute of Biological Research.

This year the Biology Club organized very successful material for its club meetings. The members were fortunate to hear many interesting lectures covering such topics as air pollution and cancer, and animal psychology. A most significant event was the visit to the Worcester Biological Institute, where a tour was conducted of the research laboratories. In the spring the club took a field trip to observe and study different types of plant growth and insect life.

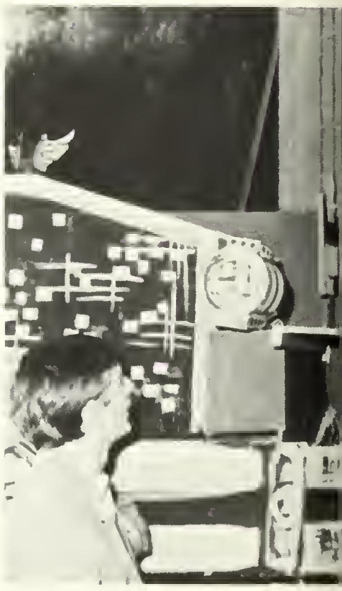
The Math Team had a very successful year, finishing among the leading teams in the league. Members of the team are given the opportunity to prove their skill as individual problem-solvers as well as their ability to work together as a team on more difficult problems.

Sitting: Milton Weinstein, Mrs. Janet Addelson, Jonathan Addelson; Standing: David Cahan, Steve Sneddon.

Math Society

Brookline High School's Math Society has long provided students with lectures given both by prominent mathematicians and by students from the high school. It has also provided seminars, discussions, and contests, all in some way relating to the study of math. The Math Society covers such topics of interest as math in music, computers, and the philosophy of math.

Dramatic



Society

Who has not been enthralled by the excellent productions of the Dramatic Society? Each play has proved a challenge to a group of enthusiastic players. They have been able to become acquainted with all aspects of the theatre: acting, painting scenery, hunting for old props, preparing costumes and make-up, selling tickets, and publicizing the productions. This year those who attend the performances saw two contrasting plays of outstanding quality, the drama First Born and the comedy You Can't Take It With You.

Jonathan Yates, President; Beverly Kager, Student Director; Ronald Macaulay, Treasurer; Susan Green, Vice-President; Mr. Arthur Flemings.

Stage and Electric Staff

"Lights!" Suddenly a stage is revealed. A spotlight swoops through the darkened auditorium and settles on an actor. The drama being performed behind the scenes in the wings is as real as that on the stage. It is the skill of the stage and electrical workers that make B.H.S. assemblies and dramatic productions the successful programs they are. Later, well after the final curtain, when the audience has left and the last player is closing the stage door behind him, the lights wink off, one by one, ending the drama that only a few were aware of.

Audio-Visual Staff

Oh, look! Look, Jane, look! See the Funny Machine. It is a movie projector. It is easy to run. See the button. Just push it. Oops! See the films. All over the floor. Run, Jane, run. Go to the Audio Visual Office. See the Audio Visual aide. He is a nice boy. He knows how to push buttons better than anybody else. He will put the film in the Funny Machine and presto! It will work. See the teacher. She is smiling. Why not? Happiness is having your very own Audio Visual staff.

Seated: Andrea Glich, Judy Shapiro; Standing: Dean Trilling, Ronald Macaulay, David Pearlman, Joel Grishaver, Mrs. Anita Buckwald, Perry Gould.

Radio-TV Broadcasting

The field of communications has always been vital in the exchange of ideas and the promotion of universal understanding. The Radio-TV Broadcasting Club may not exactly qualify as a second Voice of America, but as the Voice of Brookline, the RTBC unravels the tangled masses of dates, times and room numbers of daily events, turning them into gems of radio advertising for their captive audience.

Public Address Corps

"Another day of school, yech," you mumble as you stumble half asleep down the teeming corridors, "if I can just live through today-" and then you hear them, the cheery tinkling of chimes and a friendly voice reminding you it's eight-twenty. No, you're not in the Twilight Zone; those chimes you hear are coming from the Public Address Office, and those voices belong to the faithful P.A. crew, who make it their business to remind you of those all important meetings. It's the voice of WBHS—sounds like fun!

Concert Choir - Glee Club

True to the history of the Brookline High School Choral Department, this year's Glee Club and Choir have moved from "one crisis to the next."

In the spring of 1965, the Chorale performed Die Fledermaus at the War Memorial Auditorium for the National Educators Conference. The Chorale was a group which was selected from all three sections of the Choral Department. In May, the Concert Choir sang at the Pops Concert. The last performance of the year, the Quadrangle Concert, was presented by the entire music department. Traditionally, the concert is held outside in the Quadrangle. That year, due to the construction, the music was performed indoors. The finale of the program was The Anthem of Heritage, composed by Mr. Madden.

In December 1965 the Concert Choir sang at Swampscott High School. In presenting varied and exciting selections, the Choir hoped to stimulate student interest in the Choral Department. In February the Choral Department performed in the Winter Carnival Concert. The music ranged from show tunes to religious hymns.

In April and May the Choir participated in an exchange program with the Choir of Naugatuck High School in Connecticut. The two choirs presented a concert including Blessing, Glory, and Wisdom by Bach, a mountain song, and a madrigal. Late in May the Concert Choir sang in the Pops Concert. The Sixteenth Annual Quadrangle Concert was held on June 1. The members of the Choral Department are deeply grateful to Mr. Seymour for pulling them out of their successive crises.

Student Manual

One of the three most important school publications is the Student Manual. In the last half of the year a small, hardworking, dedicated group of juniors write the manual. The manual itself is a handy pocket-sized guide to the workings of the high school. It contains a list of the faculty and a list of award winners, a write-up of every club and sports organization, the school rules, an explanation of the workings of student government, and the songs and cheers that are so much a part of our high school.

Man's never-ending quest for perfect self-expression is the spirit behind the BHS Literary Society. The lights burn late in the library when the dedicated group gather to discuss their original compositions and the writings of those already established in the vital field of communication of ideals. One can read the fruition of their efforts in the annual Literary Leaves, a school-wide publication.

Sagamore

BHS's newspaper, the Sagamore has grown since its birth from a bi-annual pamphlet to a comprehensive monthly publication. Including four major departments—news, editorial, feature, and sports—the Sag presents articles ranging in subject from club news to book reviews to the latest sport events. Besides those who write and edit the paper are those who circulate it throughout the school and others who provide the Sagamore's fiscal well-being. Working closely with Mr. Robert Imray, the Sagamore staff members gain both valid journalistic experience and the satisfaction of seeing their make-up day hectics metamorphosed monthly into print.

The 65-66 Murivian and How It Grew

Seated: Eileen Levin, Treasurer; Standing: Sue Magid, Business Manager; Kathy Todd, Treasurer; Mr. Edgar Bruce, Adviser.

Bonnie Halpern, Photography Editor; Bobbie Golick.

Part I: Autumn

It isn't easy to say what came first. Probably nothing really. When the pictures were being scheduled, the copy was being planned, the theme was being formulated and a staff was being oriented. Bonnie cursed the rain, Ruth cursed the articles that began with "the," Barbara cursed Cheryl's handwriting, and Cheryl cursed us all (in a nice way, of course). Ideas were tossed about; efforts were made to assimilate, to give meaning.

Alix Ginsburg, Margie Lewin, Norma "Granny" Jacobs, Linda Piner, Rebecca Pincus.

Seated: Harriet Guberman, Debbie Zuker; Standing: Ruth Kaplan, Copy Editor, Cindy Podren.

At the same time, the Murivian was growing in still another sense. Plans were being made for its June distribution way back in September. Homerooms were being divided into B.A.T.'ers and non-B.A.T.'ers, straw hats were being donned, and little high school boys were stealing hats from little high school girls. The Murivian Representatives were on parade!

Part II: Winter

A beautiful season, if you have the time to enjoy it. Murivian work increased at a furious pace . . . sweat, blood, toil, and tears, and all that. Staff members groped around in the dark for that stretch home and a long-awaited dinner. Every night it was always the same: "What were you doing so late at school?" And the perpetual response was with a sigh, "Murivian."

Winter was also second-payment time. Students trudging into homeroom, $2.50 in pocket, were being greeted and checked off by Murivian Representatives. All areas of Murivian were doing their share of working.

"If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

Seated: Betsy Williams, Typing and Proof Editor; Standing: Cheryl Weiss, Dr. Luther Allison.

Karen Sandler, Marsha Feinberg, Barbara Magazine, Isabel Weisman, Susan Bleistein.

Part III: Spring

A feeling of hope pervaded the air, though the work load continued to be feverish. Betsy typed to the strains of Bonnie's laugh, Cindy laughed at Bonnie's laugh, Barbara laughed at Cindy, and food was being tossed around all over.

We were beginning to see the light; that is, the sun set at 5:45 rather than 5:10. And, mirabile dictu, a Murivian had grown.

N.S.M. Tutors

Last year Brookline High School participated in a highly successful tutoring program for Roxbury children. The program, initiated by the Northern Student Movement, was continued and expanded this year under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn G. Hill, director of N.S.M.'s tutorial program, and Miss Mary K. Rouillard, head of the BHS program.

Starting in October, the tutors attended two hour-long sessions twice a week, for six weeks. These training sessions consisted of lectures and instructions given by various teachers from BHS and local elementary schools on the different approaches to teaching reading and arithmetic.

Most of the tutors, who were allowed to indicate the grade level and subject they preferred to teach, taught children from the first to the fifth grade levels in either reading skills or math.

Although the main purpose of the program is to help the pupils with their school work, it also stresses the need for a rapport between the tutor and the student. The tutors were encouraged to expose them to culturally-enriching activities.

Winter

Peggy McNeilly, former B.H.S. queen, places crown on Paula Johnson, 1966 Winter Carnival Queen.

Carnival

During the 1966 Winter Carnival Weekend, over one thousand B.H.S. students attended the gala events which included a dance, carnival, and the concert.

Weekend activities began on Friday night with the Winter Carnival Dance, Alpine Holiday. Music, provided by the popular Reveliers, was enjoyed throughout the evening.

On Saturday afternoon the festivities continued with "Ice Skates A-Go-Go" at Larz Anderson Skating Rink. Booths, traditional hockey games, and the pie-eating contest highlighted the Carnival. Climaxing the Carnival was the crowning of the 1966 Winter Carnival Queen, Paula Johnson. Her court included Margie Cohen, Betsy Russ, and Wendy Ruby.

Saturday evening the music department presented the Winter Carnival Concert, which concluded the funfilled weekend.

After a sluggish start, the B.H.S. football team, marred by injuries, finished impressively with three straight victories to end the 1965 season with a 4-4-1 record. Losing to both Weymouth and Waltham, the team regrouped itself to defeat Leominster and tie Brockton. A large Quincy team defeated B.H.S., and a strong Arlington edged out a victory despite a 4-touchdown, 238 yard-performance by Dick Heavey. Then came successive wins against Watertown and Chelsea. Though the Thanksgiving Day was rated a toss-up, George Gannon scored three times to lead a 22-14 win over Newton. The whole school can be very proud of the team's determination and spirit in turning a rough first half of the season into a very successful half.

Jerry Arsenault carries for big gain.

Soccer

Soccer is the most popular sport in the world, and one of the fastest growing sports in America. When the high school last year obtained an exchange teacher from soccer-conscious England, the game was introduced here.

Under the guidance of Coach Thomas Conroy, this year's squad appeared amazingly strong. Despite a number of hard-fought losses, the team garnered shutout victories against such perennial winners as Newton South and Watertown. Much of the credit was due to Scotland-born Co-Captain Tony Moretti, Turkish citizen Ferdi Gundaz, and senior Howie Abrams. Together with others, they presented BHS with a most successful addition to the fall sports season.

Wrestling

Brookline's powerful wrestling team capped a very successful season by winning the Greater Boston Tourney. Led by Tri-Captains Barges, Izumi, and Norman, the Marshmen really showed their muscle, speed, and agility by defeating all but four of their dual-meet opponents.

Senior Bill Barges, one of the best high school wrestlers in the country, has pulled off 67 wins in three years of varsity competition. Along with Bill's consistency, seniors Senji Izumi, James Merrick, Paul Norman, Mark Levine, Ron Eskin, Chris Bonnet, Dev Cochrane, junior Chris O'Callahan, and freshman Eugene Eng all contributed more than their share to the overall success.

Although ten members qualified for the state tourney, the opposition was tough, and only three men could place. Bill Barges placed 1st in the 180lb. class; Mark Levine placed 2nd in the 98lb. class; Senji Izumi placed 4th in the 120lb. class. In addition, Bill won the huge trophy as the outstanding wrestler of the tournament.

Brookline High's Cross Country Team concluded a very successful season in the Metropolitan League with a second-place finish. They defeated Rindge Tech., Somerville, and B.C. High, while injuries kept them from beating Cambridge and Malden Catholic. Fine individual efforts by Captain Jay Hochberg, Junior Gene Hannigan and Senior Terry Granville were the main keys in this drive to second place. In the state meet, B.H.S. managed an eighth place in the toughest competition in many years. Hannigan, Hochberg, and Doug Rodd all ran under thirteen minutes, finishing 37th, 39th, and 50th, respectively. Since at least fifty teams participated in the one race, this team deserves a tribute for an excellent performance.

Hoopsters Clinch Title

Brookline High's Varsity Basketball Team proved to be the most successful squad of the year. Utilizing almost exclusively only seven members of the team, Coach Slaven produced a strong, cohesive unit that swept to the Suburban League Championship and finished with a record of 17 wins and 3 losses, thus qualifying itself for the Tech Tourney.

Offensively, the hoopsters were led by Junior Steve Rubin (344 points, 17.2 per game average), along with Co-Captains Stu Green and Jeff Blumenthal and 6′5″ Steve Swartz, who all averaged better than 10 points per game. Defensively, Senior Dave Freedland was outstanding in his coverage of opposing guards while Senior Phil Kadets and Junior Rubin also were excellent in controlling the opposition's offense. Particularly noteworthy was the play of Steve Swartz, who dominated the rebounding, both offensive and defensive, by pulling down 247 rebounds (a 13 per game average) and who blocked countless shots under the basket.

A few of the season's highlights included Rubin's 15 consecutive foul shots at Rindge Tech and his 30 points vs. Waltham, Swartz's 28 rebounds vs. Medford, the team's overtime victory over Waltham to clinch the Suburban Crown, and, most important, the team's qualification for the Tech Tourney at the Boston Garden.

Hockey

Brookline, with a record of six wins, six losses, and two ties, ended the season with a .500 average and finished fourth in the strong G.B.I. League for the second straight year. The team put on a number of excellent showings against other teams in the Suburban League. Typical of these was a come-from-behind victory over Somerville, 4-2. Somerville jumped to a quick lead as Dave McBride slapped in a loose puck from 15 feet out. Shortly thereafter, Joe Grady tied the score as his shot from close in on the left wing broke through the goalie's pads. On the same play, Steve Delaney picked up the first of three assists. Somerville tallied a quick goal as a wide shot deflected in off a defenseman's skates. In the second period, Neil Morrison tied the game on a power play as he took a Delaney feed, circled the net, and beat the Somerville goalie to the far side of the cage. This period was also marked by a wild melee in which order was slow in being restored. The winning goal came midway through the last period, a score by Bill Hunter. Morrison collected a Delaney pass, skated in on the left, and centered a pass to Hunter, who backhanded in through a screen. With eighteen seconds remaining, Morrison scored an unassisted goal, driving in the shot from 20 feet out.

Tennis

A fired-up varsity tennis team, powered by five senior lettermen, swept to a victorious season under the guidance of Coach Shea. When the smoke cleared from the courts, the team had seven wins and two heartbreaking losses. Continuing in the Netmen's winning tradition, Captain Eric Berger and Junior Jon Yates scored in state and national competition.

Gymnastics

The gymnastics team, which placed third in the Suburban League and second in the Suburban League Individual Championships, swept to victory after dropping the first League meets to Arlington and Newton.

The season's highlight was the Suburban League Individual Championships. Co-Captain Leo Conrad and Junior Virgo Lee took thirds in the high-bar and still rings, respectively; Junior Barry Abrams took a second on the side horse; and Co-Captain Tom Lee and Senior Richie Bryant took first places in the side-horse and long-horse vaulting competition, respectively.

Special credits go to Stu Levine, the team's highest scorer, Mike Lee, Dave Hurwitz, and Bill Bahn for their invaluable help, and Coach Devio, whose patience, devotion, and expert leadership made the team's victories possible.

The Turfmen were burning up the green this year with the hottest clubs in the state. Compiling an unbelievable 7-1 record, the Turfmen even topped the Newton teams at its three encounters. Led by Captain "Chuck" Edwards and backed by five senior lettermen, the golf team made one of the brightest spots in an already exciting spring season.

As in previous years, Coach Richard Case guided the Mermen to a victorious season. With the backing of a squad of thirty, the team's eleven lettermen chalked up a respectable record of eight wins and three losses in the Eastern Massachusetts High School League. Although everyone did his part, much of the credit must go to a quintet of four seniors and a junior: Co-Captain Tom Rainey in the fifty and one-hundred yard freestyle; Co-Captain Paul Brenner in the two-hundred yard medley and one-hundred yard butterfly; Richard Cornuelle in the one-hundred yard backstroke; and, Jim "The Surfer" Gilbert in the one-hundred yard breaststroke. Together, they garnered two records and almost 66% of the team's points. While Hafferty set a new mark of 1:03.6 in the butterfly, the foursome of Brenner, Rainey, Gilbert, and Hafferty broke the school record in the four-hundred yard freestyle relay.

One of the reasons for the high caliber of the 1965 Varsity Baseball Team was the desire of its members to give Mr. Fitzgerald a lasting memory of the varsity team.

Some of the most outstanding players will return for the 1966 season. Tom Waldstein, the only sophomore, was the team's most consistent hitter. Bill Archibald, this year's captain, knocked Waltham out of the State Tournament with his pitching. Likewise, the dependable pitching of Jeff Blumenthal led the team to victory against Rindge.

The Newton North game was very close until a last inning run won the game for Newton. With Jeff Blumenthal pitching, Brookline defeated a strong Cambridge team with a score of 3-1, and avenged its previous defeat.

The return of last year's outstanding players promises to make this year's varsity team formidable.

In Memoriam

Miss Svea Wilhelmina Kling taught stenography and typing, 1958-1965.

"Of whom shall we speak? For every day they die
Among us, those who were doing us some good,
And knew it was never enough but Hoped to improve a little by living."

—W. H. Auden

. . . And so I walk where once I walked.
The grass is mine as once it was.
Evening, morning, night, and noon:
There is no change in what they are . . . .

NO TRESPASSING
